Male Pied-sided Bloodred Tessera corn snake. He has precious little lateral white, but enough to ensure that he possesses the P/S (Pied-sided) gene mutation. That gene barely exhibited, he’s stunning in appearance and very calm, and.
He is currently about 20″ long, eating unaltered frozen/thawed medium to large pinky mice.