Show & Tell

No, we don’t breed Palmetto corn snakes any more, but I found this picture of one of my favorites. I love all of the tiny red dots all over the body. Since there are still images of Palmettos on my web site, when some inquires, we send them to TRAVIS WHISLER REPTILES on FaceBook. He is the largest producer of Palmettos in the world toDAY.