

Show & Sell

{product id=809}

She may look like a Creamsicle corn snake, but this Amel Buf is genetically very different. Because she is a Buf homozygote, breeding her to anything Buf will yield approximately 50% Buf progeny. If you breed her to an Amel of any kind, all of the babies will be Amels, about half of which will also be Buf. Her $175.00 USD price includes She is currently eating one frozen/thawed fuzzy mouse per week.