2014 male Lavender Tessera Corn Snake (Yes, he has two eyes, but the right eye is virtually invisible in this picture from being as black as the felt beneath him). His price of $300.00 USD includes FREE SHIPPING Yes, that's a Please, don't buy it price. I've seen Lavender Tesseras advertised for less, but since Tessera has the genetic habit of exaggerating features of other mutations, I'm expecting this one to exhibit true lavender coloration as an adult. I also love the dorsal pattern on this one. Regardless, I'll be happy if someone buys him and happy if they don't.
