

This 2013 male Lava Tessera corn snake is now 34" long, eating frozen/thawed hopper mice. Otherwise lateral black color zones being gray is what prompted the originator to originally call Lavas TRANSLUCENT HYPOS. Aren't we glad he changed that to LAVA? We expect him to be mature enough to breed in 2015.