

Seems like this year-so far-has been largely about Trans-pecos Ratsnake mutations, so here's a NOMINATE form of the species that I captured last summer. This little female will be large enough to breed in two years.