

This 2015 male Anery corn snake is already demonstrating pink from the influence of the Red Factor gene mutation, and should intensify in color through maturity. He is now about 15" long, eating frozen/thawed small mouse pinkies.