

Granite (aka: Anery Bloodred)

Male

d.o.h. 2011

26" long on Jan. 25, 2013

Essentially a classic male Granite corn snake mutant, demonstrating the wash of pink that is seldom seen in females. Being an Anery homozygote (in addition to Bloodred), he demonstrates the color-dimorphic phenotype that distinguishes males from females by color.