

Thank you, Travis Whisler and John Stolz for this amazing corn. Viewers may have trouble believing it, but this is an Anery Tessera from a Strawberry parent. WHERE'S THE BLACK?? The father is a Strawberry Anery Blood and the mother is an Ultramel Anery Tessera Het Strawberry. The Strawberry line is descended from stock acquired from Chuck Pretzel and Connie Hurley, so I'm delighted to finally get some Strawberry stock that I KNOW is genuinely Strawberry, VS., one of the other red-modifying gene mutations. Of course, Jim Stelpflug is the discoverer of the Strawberry mutation (wow, Jim). Thanks, Jim, Mitch, Travis, and John for this rare opportunity.
