Snow Corn Snake

Female

d.o.h. 2008

49" long on Feb. 8, 2013

$225.00 shipped

This 49" long 2008 female Snow Corn snake is a highly virile breeder. She continually lays two clutched of eggs annually that collectively average 41 eggs each year.

She would be a great neutral breeder for color projects and/or a good producer of corns for profit. A PLUS is that she is a real lap snake. In all the years I've had her (since a hatchling), she has never offered to bite anyone and handles very slowly and calmly. She emerged from brumation on Feb. 5th, after having been dormant since October 10th.
