

Each DAY at 11:00 am. ct (GMT - 5) we will post a different SMR snake being offered at a special price.

All snakes will be chosen for their rarity and/or unique beauty.

FREE U.S.SHIPPING for each Snake-of-the-Day.

ToDAY's SNAKE of the DAY Mon. Feb. 25, 2013)

{simpleproduct:id=504}

#022513

Banded Amel Motley

Female

d.o.h. 2008

50" long on Feb. 21, 2013

$250.00 shipped

This 50" 2008 female Banded Amel Motley was brumated from October 10, 2012 to January 31, 2013 so she is eating every five DAYS. She should be ready for breeding in a few weeks.

She is very friendly and has never attempted to bite (typical corn). She is slightly over weight so she is fed only one adult mouse per week. The banding trait is thought to be non-mutational, meaning that it is inherited via polygenetic interactions.