

Show & Tell

First, the discoverer of this amazing corn snake mutation deserves more credit than she gets. Thank you, Barbara Velthuysen, for discovering Micro-scale corn snake mutants, and especially for all of the hard work and years you invested to preserve them in the hobby. Most of our first 2019 “wave” of hatchlings here at SMR are from het-to-het Scaleless corns and Micro-scale hets. Here are three of the first 2019 Micro-scale (MS) mutants that hatched in late February. If we sell any of them this year, it will be after consultation with my project partner, TARA SMALL. Bonus PIC . . .
