

Show & Tell

Two of our 2013 Leucistic Gray-banded Kingsnakes (Lampropeltis alterna). The orange one in the center is the one I feature every few months to show the changing of his orange “blush” of color. Not nearly as colorful as their nominate form, leucistic mutants of this species are none-the-less rare in our hobby.