

Show & Tell

Eggs laid last week by this female Buckskin Okeetee. Her markings are actually brighter red than this pic rendered. These babies-and more from other females-will be offered for sale in a little over two months, after they are regularly feeding on frozen/thawed mouse pinkies.