30" female Hypo Bloodred corn snake has a great disposition. She has a spinal kink approximately where the pelvic girdle would be at the base of the tail (bottom of picture inset). She is currently feeding on frozen/thawed fuzzy mice (bulge from two fuzzies showing in this pic). Her $100.00 price includes That price is below market value because of her spinal kink-which has never caused a problem, has never disproportionately grown in size, and I do not expect it to ever be a problem later in maturity.
