This 2014 female Red Mask Amel Motley is now 21″ long, eating frozen/thawed pinky mice.  Genetically, she is a divergent Sunglow Motley, but since she has none of the blood in her of the SMR Sunglow Motley, I'm calling her just a Red Mask Amel Motley.  Those are the same genetic assets (mutations, Red Mask, Amel, and Motley), but the classic SMR-line Sunglow Motleys invariably have almost perfect Motley pattern.  Her $165.00 price includes
