

Show & Tell

Hours old at the time of these pics yesterDAY, April 14th, I THINK? this 2017 Striped Scaleless corn is also a Caramel, based on the precious few head scales being the color of Scaleless Caramels I've hatched in the past AND from the slightest exhibition of gold in the irises of the eyes, but I won't know for sure until this one has matured for a few months? Both parents were from the pairings of a Scaleless male to Scaled Striped Butter female corns. Bonus pic