

SHOW & Tell:

This Hypo Corn is laying her second 2014 same-season clutch of eggs. We seldom (if ever) re-breed females after their first clutch of the season, so some of them give us as many infertile eggs as fertile.