

Show & Tell

Looking somewhat Miami Tessera (like most hets for Cinder) this beautiful gravid female was produced by Tom and Linda Thompson in 2012 from pairing a Striped Tessera without black to a Peppermint (Amel Cinder). Her 2015 mate has the same genes—except Tessera—so I doubt any of her progeny will shame her royal heritage? Thanks Tom and Linda for making this beauty. I brumated her for 13 months last year or she COULD have produced for me in 2014. Since she was “on-the-fence” for size I elected to let her sleep all last summer.
