

Show & Tell

Several different Striped Tesseras; Anery, Common, Hypo, Ghost, a regular Tessera and an Extreme Blizzard. I know what you're thinking; "why alluvasudden is there an EXTREME version of so many morphs, Don?". This is the first year I'll be offering Blizzards like this one - that show almost no markings because their parents are patternless and completely devoid of yellow. Will they mature to be yellow-less adults? I don't know, but they are the best Blizzards I've ever seen so I'm going to market them for what I believe they will mature to be what most corn keepers want; pattern-less and color-less Blizzards.
