

Show & Tell

In our attempts to modify Sunglow Motley Corns for deepest coloration via selective-breeding, we strayed slightly from the orderly dorsal pattern for which Sunglow Motleys are largely famous. This year, we are back on track with great orderly Motley pattern AND the deeper colors that make Sunglow Motleys so visually striking. These postpartum Sun Motleys demonstrate perhaps 1/3 of the red/orange color-saturation they will exhibit as adults. They are five DAYS-old in the above image.
