

This 12" male 2019 Charcoal Terrazzo corn snake is possibly a Pewter Terrazzo. All of our Terrazzos are direct descendants of the unbroken original Boyd Line Terrazzos (originally called Granite Corns), so, they show very little-if any-stripping as adults. He has eaten six frozen/thawed small pinky mice since hatching in March.