

Show & Tell

I don't recall if I ever bred this female, but she's about five years old now. I recall that when I made an effort not to promote Ultramelts a few years ago, I put this female on the back shelf. But this year I think I'll see what her babies look like. She's lean because she just emerged from a long brumation. She'll fill out in just two or three weeks.