

Show & Tell

While there the color variety we expect from all corn snakes, this color theme of Amel Tessera seems to be most popular for this morph here at SMR. The large and seemingly opaque pupil is the result of over dilation from the continuous flashing of strobes during photography.