

Show & Tell

My wife found this tiny deceased Texas Blind Snake (Leptotyphlops dulcis) on the tile floor in one of the bathrooms this past weekend. It was dead when she found it, but not so desiccated that I couldn't get a decent shot of it. Naturally, the dime in the pic is for size relativity.