

Show & Tell

2017 eXtreme Okeetee corn snake. Anyone who thinks they are on the SMR Reservation List for any of these should contact me, in case your name didn't make it to the physical 2017 Reservation List. I only have about 15 of these to sell until later this Fall when the third wave of eggs hatch. These have fed once, so in two more weeks we'll be filling pre-season orders for them, but supplies will be limited for a few months. If you're new to this morph, this hatchling will be one of the most colorful examples of an eXtreme Okeetee. When I hand-pick neonates that will mature to have the deepest color and contrast I look for the ones like this (with the least expression of color) that almost resemble an Anerythristic mutant.
