

Show & Tell

There isn't much talk about Java Corns these DAYS, but I have always liked them, since getting some amazing Java corns from Bryan Laubscher in South Africa many years ago. I don't think anyone proved its inheritance to ANYone's satisfaction, but I made this snake via the most logical out-cross trial; JAVA x KASTANIE. ToDAY's featured SOTD was bred to a male with the same genes, so we'll see how they look as hatchlings in a few weeks. It's been many years since I bred these two.
