

Show & Tell

An otherwise typical looking Tessera, this one should produce striped Honey Tessera hatchlings later this summer. Fingers crossed that she (or one of her sisters) will grace me with the full target phenotype.