

The Snake-of-the-Day headliner of this web site features photographs that we believe will interest our web site visitors. Each daily photograph will be posted at 11:00 am. central (GMT - 5) and replaced in 24 hours. Feel free to make suggestions regarding what snake photographs you would like to see in this daily feature. The animals pictured here are not for sale, unless otherwise noted, but you can find available surplus snakes for sale on the Surplus Page of this web site. We appreciate your patronage and welcome any suggestions you may have.

These normals, charcoals, and Sunrise Amel are the product of pairing two corns that are het for Palmetto, Amel, and Charcoal (hence, het for Palmetto Blizzard). They are all therefore possibly het for the Palmetto mutation.

The answer to yesterDAY's quiz, "HOW MANY HATCHLINGS ARE IN THIS PHOTO??" is 15. This image reveals three of the shy ones, in case you missed them. Also, a Blue dot for one eye of each snake.
