

Show & Tell

Juvenile orange Candy Cane Corn Snake. This one exhibits rare orange and white saturation of color zones. The only thing currently more difficult to control/perfect via selective breeding in Amel corns than altering orange markings to red is changing the ground zones to white. Most Amel corns have dark red or orange markings with dirty white or orange ground body zones. Sadly, I no longer have this snake and don't make Candy Canes anymore.