

Show & Tell

Let's just say that toDAY's SOTD feature is only a PEWTER (Diffused Charcoal-aka: Charcoal Bloodred) corn snake. This particular one could be unique in the world, but I won't know for another few years, after breeding trials. I'm confident she possesses a new corn snake gene mutation. Sorry for the "tease" but if this project reaches fruition-and has the outcome I expect-you'll recall that I hinted to it on June 16, 2017. No, it's not the yellow throat.
