

The Snake-of-the-Day headliner of this web site features photographs that we believe will interest our web site visitors. Each daily photograph will be posted at 11:00 am. central (GMT - 5) and replaced in 24 hours. Feel free to make suggestions regarding what snake photographs you would like to see in this daily feature. The animals pictured here are not for sale, unless otherwise noted, but you can find available surplus snakes for sale on the Surplus Page of this web site. We appreciate your patronage and welcome any suggestions you may have.

Certainly not all the different color and pattern combinations in the Tessera mutant complex, but these are representatives of all the ones we've produced so far this year. Noted models for these pix include, though some were camera shy: Regular Tessera, Amel, Anery, Caramel, Charcoal, Bloodred, Lava, Buf, Butter, Striped Butter, Striped Ghost, Striped Caramel, and a couple of odd Striped Tesseras. After noting that the Striped Butter Tessera was buried, and due to the stress (MINE, not theirs) of setting up, maintaining order, and breaking down this shoot, I elected not to shoot again just so the Striped Butter Tessera would be visible. Doing it all over again, surely one of the others would take his place under the substrate? I NEVER want to do a busy shoot like this again. Whewwww!
