

Show & Tell

This beautiful adult female Coral Ghost corn snake is showing off her first meal on June 17th, two DAYS after emergence from brumation. She and over 90 other females will be laying eggs in a few months. Those eggs won't hatch until Winter, but there will be great variety among the babies at out-of-season hatchling time? The first wave of 2017 eggs hatched over a month ago and the second wave eggs began hatching on June 16th, so there will be plenty of hatchlings added to our web site Snakes For Sale Snakes For Sale page very soon.
