

Show & Tell

Anyone who has bred a Cinder-type corn to any non-Cinder knows that most (if not all) of the progeny will have a pale (hypo-esque) appearance. These two Tesseras are the products of pairing a Miami-phase Tessera to a Buttermint (Amel Caramel Cinder). Bonus Pic . . .