

Show & Tell

A refreshingly solid white ground zone color is slightly marred by a blush of orange. As an adult this High-white Reverse Okeetee should have a strikingly red on white pattern scheme, but the white is likely to be slightly tainted via the faint orange seen in these pictures. The red should remain as crisp and deep as it is now?

Bonus pic . . .