

Show & Tell

Since it first hatched I've been back and forth on the genotype of this Striped Tesseract (Charcoal/Pewter/Charcoal/Pewter) but now-after a year of maturity-the absence of Bloodred belly markings forces me to identify this one as a Striped Charcoal Tesseract. Even though the grandsire was Pewter (Diffused Masque Charcoal-aka: Charcoal Bloodred), I'm officially finally declaring this one to be Striped Charcoal Tesseract.
