

Show & Tell

Must be GRAY-BAND week at SMR? Two 2013 female Granite Gray-banded kings (Lampropeltis alterna), having less color than males of their morph, demonstrate their typical gender di-morphism for the GRANITE morph (males and females not having the same general appearance-like Cardinals). Males below show more color and much paler orange than most Alterna. S