

Show & Tell

Thank you, Jason Hood, for this beautiful neonate male Phrynonax poecilonotus (Bird-eating Snake). I just had to acquire a pair at NRBE in Daytona Beach earlier this month, after seeing the adults, and from numerous discussions with Jason. No, they will never eclipse corn snakes as a wildly popular species in our hobby, but I look forward to witnessing their highly dynamic metamorphosis through maturity. BONUS PICS . . .
