

Show & Tell

These two Leucistic Gray-banded Kingsnakes (Lampropeltis alterna) hatched last week, and are the only two we'll produce this year. After several feedings of frozen/thawed pinky mice, they'll be offered for sale. I haven't even checked their genders yet. Note the classic BUGGY eyes SOME Leucistic serpents possess?