

A beautiful example of the Buckskin Okeetee Morph. This snake is het for Amel, but not for Caramel (as most would suspect from the pale ground-color). This 2013 hatchling should be amazing when fully mature. No, that's not a cleft lip or damage on the rostrum. Nose color and markings render that illusion.