

Show & Tell

These two Scaleless corns have no familial relationship beyond being distantly related to the same FIRST Scaleless corn that hatched over a decade ago in France. The small one is a Scaleless Tessera and the larger of the two is the one we think is a Scaleless Lavender (produced by Chip Bridges in NC).