

Show & TELL

Not the first time this gem has been featured, I just had to complement a lucky corn snake keeper outside the U.S. who purchased this highly-freckled Palmetto female earlier this year. Can't wait to see pix of her at full maturity. Her eye dramatically demonstrates why I call these Leucistic mutants.