

Show & Tell

Thank you, Dr. Brad Lichtenhan for making this double mutant, BLACK-SILVERLEAF Kisatchie Ratsnake. I've waited a long time for this mutation compound. Imagine how successful a species is with eyes that are hidden in black facial markings like toDAY's SOTD? One of the things we like most about the BLACK (aka: Anerythristic) mutation in this species is that they do not retain/exhibit any carotenoid yellow through maturity. History of the species . . .