

Show & Tell

Grandparents of this stunning Anery were an Anery Motley bred to a Charcoal by Nancy Wimer many years ago. This beautiful Anery-type is now owned by Catherine Turley. I believe that its sibling in pic two is actually a Charcoal Anery (if not just a Charcoal), but I can't explain the blush of pink, other than to guess that a red-modifying gene was hiding in one of the grandparents?