

Show & Tell

This 2017 “Anery Okeetee” is the product of the pairing of a Sunkissed Anery to an Ultramel Anery. Note the early (tender age) expression of gold that will surely spread to most of the body in a few years? Can any of your snake keepers out there identify the three small black dots between the top two segments of the pinky finger of my hand, just to the right of the snake’s head? Hint: the equidistant spacing between them should be a good clue.
