

Finally, this year I'll find out if this Scaleless corn is het for Stripe. Sold to me as being possibly het for Stripe and Butter, he certainly appears to be het for Caramel. With no visible markers for Amel and Stripe, I'll find out about those mutations this year when I breed him to a Striped Butter. If I'm lucky, his mate will grace me with Scaleless Striped Butters this coming year. It's difficult to type with so many fingers crossed.
