

Show & $ell

{product id=931}

2014 Male Sunrise Amel Striped Motley Corn Snake. He is already well into his color saturation phase, which will continue to concentrate for the next many years. In about two years, some of the scales bounding pattern zones will randomly and sparsely begin to depigment to white. Belly bulge is from eating a large frozen/thawed pinky mouse the DAY before this picture. His $215.00 price includes to any of the lower-48 United states.