

Update on the pair of Striped Sunkissed corns we produced this past summer. They are staying on color and pattern course so far. I'll post an update again in a few months.