This 13" female 2018 Scaleless corn snake is currently eating small frozen/thawed pinky mice. I don't often name snakes, but when this lil girl was absorbing her yolk (while she was still in her egg) at first glance, she appeared to be winking at me. Naturally, it was obvious that she had no right eye. Upon closer examination-after she was out of the egg-I felt a dorsal kink above her cloaca (where the retained skin is showing in this pic). After this pic she sloughed the tail skin. I'm selling her at a PET GRADE price that's half the value of most Scaleless corn snake hatchlings. She has eaten five frozen/thawed pinkies, and has never refused a meal. Her $225.00 price includes note: ALL Scaleless corns in the hobby toDAY (including SCALED corns that are carriers of the Scale-less mutation-aka Het Scaleless) are descendants of the original pairing of a Corn Snake to an Emory's Ratsnake (aka: Great Plains Ratsnake). Therefore, all Scaleless corns (and their scaled siblings) are inter-species hybrids.

BONUS PIC . . .

Pic inset offers macro view of the head. Blue arrow is pointing to the only spinal kink I felt. She eats and defecates normally.
